To Whom It May Concern

I have had the pleasure of knowing Tania Shenstone for the past three years and have been able to observe her from both a social and professional point of view, coming to the conclusion that she's got 'it'.

As long as I've known her, Tania has shown great dedication, commitment, drive and passion for her acting career. But that's never enough, she has something else; Tania is one of those rare people who lights up the room and fills a frame.

Over the years Tania has completed numerous projects from Feature/short films through to television commercials. Tania can take direction on set and is proving her versatility as an actor, continuing to hone her craft on a constant basis.

Tania is an achiever, a person who sets her goals and objectives and invariably meets these goals. With her drive and determination I do not doubt Tania will go far in this challenging industry.

I wish her every success in her bright future which lies ahead.

Sincerely,

Mark DeFriest
